BIG TOURING AUTO IS BADLY DAMAGED

A. S. Pierce's New Car Runs Into Ditch at Antigo—Missus says
to be careful

In an unfortunate accident at Antigo late last Friday evening the new Stoddard-Dayton touring car owned by A. S. Pierce of this city was badly damaged.

Runs Into Ditch

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and little daughter were returning in the car from a trip to Chicago and points in Indiana. Clarence Wesley of this city was the chauffeur in charge of the machine. Arriving at Antigo, Friday evening, after a run of one hundred and eighty five miles the party decided to remain at that city for the night and cover the short distance to this city in the morning. The machine was placed in a garage and Mr. Pierce and family retired at the Butterfield Hotel.

At a later hour, Mr. Wesley, meeting a number of young friends, decided to treat them to an auto ride and it is said removed the car from the garage without the permission of Mr. Pierce. When speeding along on one of the country highways not far from the city the big car, through apparent recklessness on the part of the driver, switched off its course and bolted into a ditch by the side of the road. Before the machine stopped it slid over a hundred feet, bumping over sharp rocks and other obstructions and finally crashing through a barbed wire fence.

Damage Is Heavy

The damage rendered to the machine was found to be so great that it was impossible to make repairs at Antigo and the auto was shipped to the factory at Chicago. At this time Mr. Pierce is unable to state the amount of his loss.

The car was one of the largest and best equipped ever brought to northern Wisconsin and drew attention wherever driven. It was furnished with special trimmings and was the only machine in the city which boasted of a set of chimes. When the auto was driven into Antigo it proved the center of attraction. The Journal stated that it was the finest equipped touring car ever seen in that city.

Makes Sad Mistake

The accident is an unfortunate one both for Mr. Pierce and the chauffeur. It is a source of regret that the young man should display such poor judgment in taking the car out without the owner's leave. The machine must have also been traveling at a high speed as the condition of the wreck would indicate. There is no doubt but what Mr. Wesley made a sad mistake by which he will profit in the future. Sympathy is expressed both for him and Mr. Pierce.

Warning To Chauffeurs

In Rhinelander there are several young men in charge of automobiles, who display carelessness in driving. They force their cars through the streets at a terrific speed, showing little consideration for the safety of pedestrians or vehicles in their path. Time and again have these young chauffeurs been warned against this reckless "joy riding" but to all appearances such warnings are to no purpose. Several serious accidents have been narrowly avoided and it is time that proper steps were taken by the authorities to prevent this lawlessness. Act before it is too late.

HEAT VICTIM RECOVERING

The young Worden boy, who was prostrated by the heat while at work for the Pelican River Lbr. Co. about one week ago, is on the road to recovery, although still confined to his bed. For several days the boy's condition was alarming. His is the first case of heat prostration to be reported in this city during the present hot wave.

R. Dawson returned Saturday morning from a trip of several weeks through the Canadian northwest. If Donahue, who left here with him, arrived home ten days ago.

SHOOTS GIRL; KILLS SELF

Odanah Scene of Attempted Murder and Suicide, Saturday

Odanah, the Indian reservation village on the Northwestern Ry north of this city, was the scene of intense excitement last Saturday when Robt. Voleski attempted to murder his sweetheart, Victoria Jonas and later committed suicide.

The story which reached this city regarding the trouble, is as follows: Miss Jonas is said to have refused to marry Voleski, and he becoming enraged entered the boarding house where she was employed and in the presence of several people shot at her three times. One of the bullets hit her in the foot. Her assailant then skipped out and hid in the lumber yard until morning when the sheriff and a posse found his hiding place and he escaped and ran along the river bank. The officers followed him, exchanging shots, and finally the fellow ran almost into the undersheriff who was ahead of the posse. Voleski then tried to cross the river, and finding that escape was impossible he shot himself three times, his body falling into the water. The corpse was recovered several hours later.

One report circulated here was to the effect that Voleski had been killed by the sheriff's men, but this was later found to be untrue.

ANTIGO TEAM LOSES HARD FOUGHT GAME

Rhinelander Meets Old Enemy Last Sunday and Gets Victory by Score of 2 to 4

The Rhinelander base ball team headed by Manager Belliel and Secretary George Jewell, accompanied by about 150 enthusiastic "fans," journeyed to Antigo last Sunday and witnessed what proved to be, the most intensely interesting and exciting game. Rhinelander has participated in this season.

In order to accomplish their purpose against the rejuvenated Antigo base ball club by the score of 4 to 2, Manager Belliel's stellar aggregation were forced to go the distance of thirteen half raising innings. In Rhinelander's half of that round, a fusillade of successive drives by Post Rooney and Jastram, yielding two clean, earned runs, was sufficient to mark the contest number seven in Rhinelander's won columns. Rightfully the game should have ended in the regulation nine innings, but an unfortunate error creeping in at a most vital time by the usually reliable Kramer was in part responsible for paying the way to an extension of the game into extra innings. Opposed to Dies in the pitcher's box for Antigo, was the trim, clean cut Erickson of Merrill, who was effective and resourceful a side from the fourth and final innings especially with men on bases. No less than eleven men were left to perish on the sacks; three in the seventh alone. Dies on the other hand was as steady as a well oiled, smooth running piece of machinery. Only once in the ninth inning was he in trouble and then it was he extended himself to the limit.

The versatility of South Paw Rooney was displayed as custodian of first base, where he guarded the sack in impressive style, fifteen chances falling to his lot without a skip. In addition to faultlessly fielding his position, he led with the stick, having four clean hits to his credit. In the thirteenth inning after Captain Post had singled to center, Rooney gladdened the hearts of the Rhinelander fans by actually breaking up the game with a terrific triple and scored a moment later on Jastram's splendid drive to the same territory. Rooney and Jastram was the combination that starred for Rhinelander both in the field and at bat. Twice the former drove in runs with slashing drives, scoring Ryan in the fourth and Post in the final, while Jastram performed a similar duty for Rooney. In the eleventh inning, Jastram

SIX WEEKS SUMMER NORMAL IN SESSION

School For County Teachers Opens
Last Monday Under Favorable Conditions

The usual county institute is a thing of the past in Wisconsin, and for the first time in years, the one-week and two-weeks institute do not call the teachers of each county to gather within the county for the five or ten days of inspirational work intended to arouse the professional zeal of the teachers for the new year's work.

The new law requiring untrained teachers to attend a professional flourishing trade which at the present time amounts to several thousand dollars per week and is still growing. Each of the eight State Normal schools are in summer session, together with several of the County Training schools, and the State Board of Regents have established three long term institutes having similar courses as the normal schools are located at Rhinelander, Eau Claire and Oconto, for the purpose of accommodating the teaching force of the state remote from normal school advantages.

The courses offered will prepare teachers to meet the requirements of the new certification law in renewing certificates or gaining new certificates, in securing standings acceptable to county superintendents, in securing credits accepted at state and county normals, and in increasing the general efficiency of every teacher in attendance.

Prof. Aea M. Royce, now institute conductor of the Superior normal school, is principal of the school. As qualifications for his work he brings the experience of four years of county superintendent, five years as supervisor of city schools, and five years of teaching in state normal schools. Mr. Royce is ably assisted by Supt. F. A. Harrison of this city, Principal John E. Hale of the Barron County Training School at Rice Lake, and Miss Elizabeth R. McCormick of the Madison City schools.

Supt. Harrison has through two years of most excellent and satisfactory work in this city won the confidence of all, and brought with him a most excellent record of similar work done in Breadhead, Wis., and other schools. Prin. Hale began his career as a teacher by five years of rural school work in Polk county. After completing his education and training he added nine years of work as supervising principal of high schools, among which were Augusta and Black River Falls, and for the past three years has held his present position. Miss McCormick has served well the schools of Wisconsin in rural schools, and for several years was one of the most prominent primary teachers in the city of Superior. During the past year she has held the position of supervisor of the first four primary grades of the city schools of Madison, having under supervision all the primary teachers of that city.

Prof. Royce, himself, has general supervision and also teaches two classes in School Management, and one each of American Literature, and Methods of teaching Reading and Language. Supt. Harrison a class in Review Algebra, one in Physical Geography, and two classes in Geography. Principal Hale has a class each of Physics and Library Science and two classes in Arithmetic.

One of the unique features of the Summer school is the work of Miss McCormick. In the forenoon she conducts a model school composed of about twenty-five first and second grade pupils from the city, giving observation to the classes in Methods in all the important primary work and in the afternoon she meets a large class in Methods of Reading and Language where these branches and other school work is discussed. All the instructors of the school keep directly in touch with the work of the model school, using its methods in connection with their teaching of

CHEVLEN TAKES PARTNER

A. E. Archambault Joins Him in Wholesale Fruit Business
Sam Chevlen, who for the last three months has been engaged in the wholesale fruit and vegetable business in this city, has taken a partner, Arthur B. Archambault of Chicago, and the new firm will be known as the Rhinelander Produce Company. Mr. Archambault and wife arrived in the city Monday. It is the object of the new company to do business on a large scale and hereafter goods for distribution will be received at the warehouse on King St., in car lots only. The first car from the Chicago markets was unloaded yesterday.

Since opening business in Rhinelander Mr. Chevlen has worked up a flourishing trade which at the present time amounts to several thousand dollars per week and is still growing at a healthy rate. The trade is not confined alone to the home merchants but extends to nearly all of the surrounding towns within a radius of fifty miles. Mr. Chevlen is not a bit sorry that he located in this city. He has become one of its staunch boosters and puts in a good word for Rhinelander whenever he has an opportunity.

Mr. Archambault, the new member of the company, though a young man, has had long experience as a commission man and is thoroughly versed in every detail of the business.

THREE DROWN WHILE BATHING AT BUNDY

Mrs. Hunter and Daughter, and Slocum Girl, Victims of Sad Accident Last Night

Three people, a Mrs. Turner and her daughter, a girl about fourteen years of age, and a young girl named Slocum, aged twelve years, were drowned in the lake at Bundy while bathing last evening. The bodies were recovered about half an hour after the accident. Attempts to restore life proved of no avail.

Only brief particulars concerning the terrible happening can be obtained in this city. It is reported that the trio waded into a deep hole located within a short distance from shore and neither of the three being able to swim, sank beneath the surface. The corpses were found in about twenty feet of water.

F. A. Hildebrand, undertaker, went to Bundy late last night and prepared the bodies for burial.

The accident is one of the saddest and most shocking to occur in this section in many years.

Drowns At Parish

Oscar Lember, a woodsman, fell off a raft while crossing the lake at Parish, Sunday afternoon, and was drowned. Two companions, with him on the float, attempted to save the man but he went below the surface before they could reach him.

The body was almost immediately recovered. Lember was a native of Finland, where his relatives are living. The Parish Lumber Company took charge of the burial.

PLAYS WITH GUN; HURT

Whittaker Boy Shoots 22 Bullet Through His Hand
Archie Whittaker, a little east side boy, injured his left hand quite severely this morning while playing with a 22 calibre revolver. The weapon suddenly discharged, the bullet going through the hand just below the first and second finger.

The youngster was holding an advance celebration of the Fourth when the accident occurred. The danger from blood poisoning is slight and no ill results are feared. His misfortune should be a warning to children to use care in the handling of explosives. Next Monday. Parents should not allow their boys and girls to have fire arms or big fire crackers.

Mrs. W. H. Gilligan Jr., is suffering from a relapse of her recent illness. Her friends hope for her speedy recovery.

tram miraculously threw out the life lines, by spearing with his bare hand a savage grounder and whipping the ball to Rooney at first, retiring the runner and leaving two men on bases, saving the game at this critical period.

Kare in left for Antigo, shone out in brilliant fashion by robbing Jastram of apparently two safe singles. In the sixth while running at a furious rate of speed, he plunged headlong to the ground and after turning a complete somersault, came up with the ball glued to his mitt. Sohr in center for Rhinelanders marred his otherwise praiseworthy record of seven put outs by rushing over in Clifford's territory and letting the ball fall to the grass for a hit. Ryan featured at short, figuring in an unassisted double play and also one of the electrifying kind by pinching a speedy grounder, via the route Kramer to Rooney. All in all, the game was well worth going many miles to witness.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Rhinelanders Citizens Show the Certain Way Out

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes of any kidney pills when relief is so near at hand, and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Rhinelanders citizen says:

John J. Hickey, Kemp St., Rhinelanders, Wis., says: "About two years ago my kidneys became disordered and I suffered a great deal from a lame back. I tried several remedies, but found no relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Reardon's Drug Store. After that my condition improved steadily and I have had no kidney trouble since." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TRAINS CHANGE NUMBERS

Changes have been made in the numbers of passenger trains on the Ashland division of the Northwestern road. Trains are known by the following numbers: No. 6, south bound night limited, now No. 112. Train No. 14, south bound, which is made up at this city, is now No. 114. Train No. 16, south bound has been changed to 116. Train 11, north bound morning limited, is now No. 117. Train No. 5, which runs as far north as this city, arriving at 11:45 p.m., is known as No. 103.

The change of these numbers is causing some confusion among train men in reading orders and it will be some weeks before the employees become thoroughly used to the alterations.

CHAS. W. FRICKE, Rhinelanders

Republican Ticket—Primary, September 6th.

D. B. STEVENS FOR ASSEMBLY

THE BEST INSURANCE

Agent—My friend, are you carrying all the Life insurance you need?

Friend—Yes Sir, I am carrying the best Life Insurance I can get.

Agent—In what company or Society are you insured in?

Friend—In the Modern Samaritans of Duluth, Minn.

Agent—Why do you consider that as being the best insurance you can get?

Friend—Well I'll tell you. I am carrying a $3000 policy in the Modern Samaritans. They pay this way. If I should happen to die, my wife would get $3000. If I should ever become totally permanently disabled, I could draw all the way from $2000 to $3000, or else I could go to a home and be taken care of as long as I live. If I live to be 65 years of age I am going to draw out more than my $3000. You see I can't lose out. If I am sick and can't pay my assessments the Local Lodge will pay them for me until I am well.

Agent—What does this policy cost you?

Friend—It costs me about $48.00 a year for the first 5 years after which it costs about $30.00 a year and remains that way until I am 65 years of age.

Agent—I don't see how they can do all they agree to do for what they are charging you. It seems almost impossible.

Friend—Yes, it seemed that way to me at first too. You see they have a plan different from the rest of the societies or companies. You go to Mr. S. J. Leisman, he is the State Organizer and his offices are over Bronson's store. He can tell you how they can do it. He can prove it to you too. He did to me. It is the most scientific and wonderful plan of insurance I ever heard of. You know it's a nice thing if you can be independent when you reach the age of 65. You don't have to beg your children to support you. You don't have to have your children keep up your policy for you when you are old and have them wishing you were dead so they could get your insurance money. This is something where you have a chance of getting your own insurance. You don't have to die to win.

Agent—Well I will have a talk with Mr. Leisman about it and if it is as you say, I will take out a policy myself even if I am working for a different company.

Friend—You do that. It will cost you nothing to have a talk with him, and if he can't prove to you that they can do all they agree to do, I'll buy you the best hat in the town. Insure in the Modern Samaritans.

BADGER STATE BUILDINGS

Milwaukee—$75,000 for building appraiser's store.

Waukesha—$75,000 for a postoffice.

Sparta—$60,000 for a site and building.

Lancaster—$5,000 for a site.

Monroe—$7,500 for a site.

Neenah—$7,500 for a site.

Waupun—$5,000.

The treasury estimate for the Milwaukee appraiser's store was $120,000.

The Conservation of Nature's Resources

Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. J. Budlong, Washington, R. I., realized his condition, and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late."

TO CANDIDATES

It is useless to instruct us to print your notice of candidacy in the New North unless you pay for it when ordered. We shall make no exception to this rule. More, all candidates will have to pay for their job printing when ordering same at this office.

New North Printing Company.

Ex-President Roosevelt favors primary elections. He says he will do all in his power to aid Governor Hughes get a law passed in New York State.

We see evidence that the New York anti-jay riding law should be passed in Wisconsin. It provides that any chauffeur who without the consent of the owner shall use operate or remove from a garage another building any automobile or motor vehicle shall be deemed guilty of grand larceny and be punished accordingly.

The attempt of the old bunch to bolster up President Taft is certainly most amusing. When he refused to interfere with the "Special Interest" congressmen in behalf of the masses of people for a better tariff, they said he did not wish to destroy the legislative branch of the government. Now that he has interfered in railroad legislation, the same old bunch see great glory in his acts. In their eyes he is now a hero. We regret that President Taft's backbone is not displayed for the right causes.

McGOVERN GAINING FRIENDS

Francis E. McGovern, who earned the title of the Fighting District Attorney of Milwaukee county and who is now a candidate for governor on the republican ticket, recently completed a trip to various parts of the state and is well satisfied with the result.

He expects to make the same aggressive campaign which has put him in the forefront as the champion of representative government. Right now, more than ever before, this state needs men who can be depended upon to be on the people's side whenever necessary.

MUST STAND TOGETHER

The fight this year shows that the lines are closely drawn between men who would have the corporate interests get control and men like McGovern who believe in representative government. The former means that the corporations will get special privileges, escape just taxation whenever possible, and affairs generally will be run in such a manner that the people will not get the square deal to which they are justly entitled.

The only way to avoid such a condition is for all progressives to stand shoulder to shoulder and fight the common enemy. Division in the ranks brought about by some other issue which can be settled at another time, spell disaster.

Don't be led astray by glittering generalities offered by men whose motives will not ring true.

INSURGENTS LAUDED.

Insurgents are given credit for the progressive legislation of the past congress.

James A. Garfield, former Secretary of the Interior says to the insurgents is due the credit for the progressive legislation of the past session of congress. He writes as follows:

"Unless such a fight as these men made had been made, progressive legislation would have been impossible in this congress.

"The cause of self-government, of government for all of us rather than by a few Special Interests, has undoubtedly been advanced during this session and the Insurgents, both in house and senate, are the ones to whom all the credit belongs."

"What effect will the Insurgency of these men have on the Republican party, and upon their own standing as party men?"

Are Still Republicans

"These men have been and still are Republicans. They cannot be driven out of the party, because they stand for and fight for true representative government. The house Insurgents succeeded in partially restoring the measure of representative action that has been submerged in the control of the speaker and of the rules committee.

"These men revolted not against the Republican party, but against certain leaders of the party, leaders who were seeking to use the party for Special Interests, rather than for the public welfare."

The Chicago Record-Herald says of the insurgents:

"They voted for every 'step forward' and every 'half loaf' even when they felt that longer steps and whole loaves were desirable. They helped, they improved, they shaped much of the legislation we now behold with satisfaction.

"Insurgent activity made the session exciting and stormy at times, but the excitement was salutary. There was ozone in the protests, health in the revolts.

"The Insurgents have been faithful to their constituents and to the best interests of the party. They merit recognition and there should be an end to all absurd talk of 'fighting them on the stump' and sending out vicious, shallow, unfair literature from party headquarters branding them as traitors or marplots."

The congressional record makes an excellent basis for party peace, and mutual toleration."

FIFTY-TWO YEARS

Sir, whenever the time comes that a Senator is to account to the Executive and not to his State, whom does he represent. If the will of my State is one way and the will of the President is the other, am I to be told that I must obey the Executive and betray my State, or else be branded as a traitor to the party and hunted down by all those that share the patronage of the Government? I should like to know what is the use of Congress; what is the use of Senators and Houses of Representatives, when their highest duty is to obey the Executive in disregard of the wishes, rights and honor of their constituents? What despotism on earth would be equal to this if you established the doctrine that the Executive has a right to command the votes, the consciences, the judgment of Senators and Representatives. Instead of their dispensation is granted from the fountain of all power for rebellion upon all subjects but one. The President says, in effect, "Do as 'you please upon all subjects but one.' On what principle is it that we must not judge for ourselves on this measure and may on everything else? Surely you do not expect the support of those whom you brand as renegades! Would it not be well to allow all freemen freedom of thought, freedom of speech and freedom of action? Would it not be well to allow each Senator and Representative to vote according to his judgment and perform his duty according to his own sense of his obligation to himself, to his State, and to his God?

It may be thought that these words were uttered recently by some insurgent Republican member of Congress who had spoken and voted against the Payne-Aldrich tariff, thereby incurring the ill-will of Mr. Taft; not so. They were delivered in the Senate of the United States on the 23d of March, 1858, by Stephen A. Douglas. The President whom Douglas defied was James Buchanan. The institution that could not be spoken against at that time was human slavery. There are few men North or South to-day who do not realize that Douglas was right and Buchanan wrong.

The State that Douglas served so well, although most of the time since his day adhering to a political faith differing from his own, has erected to his memory one of the noblest monuments in the world. Mr. Taft may well reflect upon the fact that in the entire West and Northwest, where Insurgency was once Democratic and is now Republican, there is not anywhere a public memorial, great or small, of James Buchanan.

WEED OUT UNDESIRABLES

Under the new order of things in Milwaukee sixty-four saloons have already been turned down for running bad places in the past and it is said more still are to be put on the black list.

Milwaukee is setting a good example in this regard, will other cities follow its example, Rhinelander for instance? There is no question but what several saloons of this city should be put out of commission for selling to minors and ignoring notices of black-listing habitual drunkards. Will the same old system prevail that has been in vogue here for years, about everything that puts up the license money get license irrespective of past law breaking and destruction of humanity or will saloon keepers have to give an accounting for their past conduct? If law breakers are punished by receiving no license the refusals will not be confined to the dives. We shall watch with interest what the council does with the requests for license.

Milwaukee is now "on the map" as never before, and it is no longer famous merely for foam. The Social Democratic party recently voted in power by an overwhelming vote, is pre-eminently a people's party, and has always been noted for its friendly attitude toward the public schools. The present city council does not contain any saloon keepers—a condition heretofore unheard in Milwaukee, and a significant index of an uplift in civic cleanliness. If there is any other large city in America whose city council contains no saloon keepers, we shall be pleased to hear of it and to record the fact; it is believed that Milwaukee is unique in this respect—Milwaukee Western Teacher.

DEATHS

Gustave Dart, aged 48 years, a farmer who resided near this city, died Tuesday at the hospital after a short illness with appendicitis. He was well known in this vicinity having made his home here for some years. A large family of children survive him.

The funeral was held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon Rev. Ludwig of the M. E. church performing the ceremony.

After having been in failing health for the last five years death came to relieve the sufferings of John D. Hogan at his home on the north side, Tuesday evening.

Mr. Hogan was sixty-four years of age and is survived by several children among whom is Mrs. Clarence Demmick and Mrs. John Gibson of this city.

During his long residence in Rhinelander the old gentleman made a large number of friends and his death is sincerely regretted. To the sorrowing family the deepest sympathy is given.

The funeral was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Ludwig of the M. E. church conducted the services.

CHILDREN NOT DEPENDENT

According to statements made by the members of the Royal Neighbors lodge in this city the four Warner children, now in the state school for dependent children at Sparta, are not dependent, but have $2,000 life insurance money left them by their mother and also the home on the west side, valued at about $700. The insurance money is being held at the headquarters of the Royal Neighbors lodge awaiting the signing of proper papers when the amount will be turned over to the guardians of the little ones.

There was no necessity of committing the children to the Sparta school and people acquainted with the facts of the case express indignation that such a course was taken.

HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

Yenor Boy Nearly Hit By Log Which Rolls From Car.

As he stood at the Pelham street crossing of the Northwestern tracks, last Thursday afternoon, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yenore narrowly escaped being crushed under a log which fell from the top of a loaded car. The heavy timber struck the ground within a few inches of the boy and it was by nothing less than a miracle that a distressing accident was avoided. Several people, including the lad's father, witnessed the incident.

It is a frequent occurrence for logs to drop from cars as the trains pass over the tracks and many people have been severely injured and killed in this manner. Precaution should be taken by woodsmen in securely loading logs on cars. Timbers are often left loose or not properly placed and the motion of the train causes them to fall. People are also warned to keep a safe distance from the tracks when a log train is passing.

CELEBRATE AT SUGAR CAMP

Big Crowds to Visit Popular Resort On July 4th

Messrs. Knapp & Jones, the live and up-to-date proprietors of Sugar Camp Resort, have completed arrangements for the proper observance of July 4th at their resort. A long and splendid program of races, sports and amusements of all kinds will be given. One of the chief features of the day will be a base ball game between the Indians and a white team. This will prove a strong drawing card.

Extra boats and guides will be provided for those who desire to spend the day on Indian Lake. This is one of the most beautiful bodies of water in northern Wisconsin and is fairly alive with pike, muskallonge and other native game fish.

As there is to be no celebration of the nation's birthday in this city it is expected that a large number of Rhinelander people will make merry at Sugar Camp. Ample provisions have been made for the handling of the crowds and the management will see that everybody has a good time.

MAKES MONEY IN WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff. Redfield and two children of Portland, Ore., are visitors at the home of his brother, Thos. Redfield, on Anderson Street. Mr. Redfield was at one time a railroad man and resided in this city. After going to the western country, a number of years ago, he followed railroad work for some time, but later settled down to the less strenuous and more profitable life of a farmer. In this vocation he has been very successful and has stored away a snug supply of Uncle Sam's medium of exchange. His fruit farm near Portland is one of the largest and finest in Oregon.

Mr. Redfield and family will remain in Rhinelander about three weeks and will probably go to Milwaukee before returning to the coast.

FIRES DESTROY TIMBER

Reports from Conover and State Line state that forest fires have rendered heavy losses to cut and standing timber in those sections. All of last week the fires raged around the two towns carrying destruction in its sweep. Thousands of feet of logs on skidways were ruined and many camps and settlers' shacks were destroyed. It is difficult at this time to give an approximate estimate of the loss as the fires are still burning.

ELCHO MAN STRUCK BY LIMITED TRAIN

Chester Weaver Meets With Serious Injuries on Northwestern Tracks. Recovery Doubtful

Chester Weaver, a young man whose home is said to be at Elcho, was brought to this city this morning on the Northwestern limited, in an unconscious state and bleeding freely from wounds about the face and body as the result of having been struck by a train at a point south of Monico.

MAY NOT RECOVER

Particulars regarding the accident are not known here as nothing of a definite nature could be learned from the train men. To all appearances Weaver is a drinking man and it is probable that his misfortune was due to liquor. The victim's parents, who live at Elcho, have been notified and will arrive in the city today.

Dr. Hogan, who administered to the unfortunate's injuries, says that he is in a grave condition and his recovery is doubtful. He received a bad fracture of the jaw and a compound fracture of the leg. He is also bruised and cut in many places on the body and it is the opinion that he sustained internal injuries. Up to a late hour this forenoon Weaver had not regained consciousness.

IS KILLED IN WEST

Word was received in the city Saturday afternoon that Geo. O'Keefe, a railroad man who at one time made Rhinelander his headquarters, was instantly killed by a Northern Pacific train near Medora, N. D., Friday afternoon. He was making a coupling and fell between the cars. It is not known here where his relatives reside.

HURT IN RUNAWAY

Chas. Utzey is Victim Of A Very Serious Accident.

In a runaway accident, last Monday, Chas. Utzey, an aged resident of the town of Pelican, was seriously injured.

Utzey was driving a team owned by Al. Schiddeger, and was bringing to the city a load of furniture. When not far from the farm of Sam Walters the horses became frightened and started on a brisk run. They ran into a rig occupied by Mrs. Roy Ford and children. The vehicle was upset and the occupants thrown to the ground. Their injuries were slight.

By this time the Schiddeger horses were under control, but soon became unmanageable again and in their mad flight threw Mr. Utzey from the wagon. He received an injured skull, several fractured ribs and is hurt internally. Owing to his advanced age he may not recover.

Alex. McRae of this city was one of the witnesses to the accident and assisted in conveying Mr. Utzey to the hospital.

JEWELER ENDS HIS LIFE

FROM BAKERY TO CONGRESS

Representative Foelker Tells How Y. M. C. A. Gave Him His First Real Start

Washington.—The general secretary of the Washington Y. M. C. A. was recently surprised by a call from Congressman Otto G. Foelker, who asked him if he recognized in him a German boy who was a member of the association of which he then served as general secretary in Brooklyn 15 years before.

This brought to light the story of the study and development of a sturdy German baker boy, who started on his upward climb with $1.19 in his pocket and was helped by the friendship of this secretary and the educational classes to a career. The gamblers will not forget that it was Senator Foelker's vote that blocked the race track bills in the famous contest in 1908 in the senate of the state of New York, although he had to be carried to the senate chamber on a cot to cast his vote.

Congressman Otto G. Foelker.

"I landed in Brooklyn with $1.19 in my pocket and without a friend or acquaintance so far as I knew within 300 miles," said Mr. Foelker. "I had struck out for myself and in the great city of New York I thought I would find my best opportunity."

"Sunday was a lonesome day for me until I happened into the Calvary Episcopal church, where the good rector, Dr. Twing, at once commanded my esteem and afterward became my friend. He took me to the Young Men's Christian association and the general secretary, William Knowles Cooper, won me by his friendly interest and his sturdy, friendly hand was a positive help in keeping me at it in those days of poverty and of struggle."

"I pumped the organ on Sundays and lived in a lodging house at ten cents a night. I worked at my trade part time. Finally I got steady employment in the German Legal Aid society in the early part of 1896 and that is what led me into the law, into the legislature and into public life."

"I studied law at nights in a law office and got my first start in the legal aid society. I had one year in a Troy business school, but it was only a small part of my real training."

"After making up all of the elementary training I needed in the association school and having mastered a good deal of the secondary work, in 1902 I attended the New York Law school, and in 1908 I was admitted to the bar, after having secured my academic certificate through the years of supplementary study."

In 1904 Mr. Foelker was elected to the New York state assembly. His early training in the Young Men's Christian association in the formation of friendships, he says, gave him training for that first election.

Soon Mr. Foelker became the most bitterly hated man in the entire state of New York—in certain quarters—and he was not better loved by the race-track gamblers for risking his life in casting the vote against them.

TO SCHOOL BOARDS OF ONEIDA COUNTY:

Our county is largely represented at the Summer Institute and Normal School but still there are teachers who have not had a normal or a training school education and still are not attending this school, simply because they do not have to have their certificates renewed this year. The live energetic teachers who have not had a normal or a training school education are present and are improving themselves and should receive consideration from the school boards. Those teachers who will let a summer normal come right in their midst at a large expense to Wisconsin and not take advantage of it, show a lack of enthusiasm for their profession and ambition for self-improvement. Next week, I shall publish a full list of teachers attending the Summer Normal here or elsewhere and I advise school boards to select from these their teachers for the coming school year. Here is the place to select your live teachers.

DOLLIVER MAKES GREATEST SPEECH

SENATOR IN BEST EFFORT OF HIS CAREER FLAYS THE REACTIONARIES.

QUESTION OF PARTY CONTROL

Democratic Party, Lacking Leadership and Organization, Falls to Take Advantage of Opportunities—Progressive Republicans
Win in Conference.

Washington.—Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver delivered the strongest speech of his career and the strongest speech which has been delivered setting forth the Progressive Republican viewpoint which has been made in either house or senate. In it he discussed the control of the Republican party, the effort to stifle independent thought and action and the manner in which the president has been used by unscrupulous manipulators in their schemes to betray public interest and control the government in the interest of what Senator Beveridge has termed the "powers of pillage."

The speech of the Iowa senator was delivered in support of the proposition to create a tariff commission and in pointing out that the tariff board provided for in the sundry civil bill was in no manner a compliance with the promise to the people upon this question. It is conceded by senators to be the greatest effort of Dolliver's life. He epitomized the stand taken by Progressive Republicans everywhere and it was a complete reply to the attack made upon them by the president and by reactionary senators and representatives. Nothing that has been uttered has so enraged the forces of reaction. For some inscrutable reason the men making the fight for special privilege in congress seem to think that they have an insuperable right to assail the Progressive Republicans and that the Progressives are to stand quietly and take the lash. The Progressives will not permit the statements which have been made by the vice-president, the president and by reactionary members of congress, in which they have misrepresented legislation, the aims and purposes of the men who have made the fight on the floors of both houses for legislation in the interests of the people, to remain unchallenged.

Party Conditions Reviewed.

It may be that because of the long silence which they have maintained under the misrepresentation which has been indulged in in regard to this that the reactionaries believed the Progressives would never assert the truth. The Dolliver speech was dignified and confined itself strictly to the issue. It is not possible within the space of a newspaper account to give any adequate idea of the thoroughness with which he reviewed the conditions within the Republican party and set forth the idea that a new dispensation has come, that the legislation bargain counter, so far as Progressive Republicans are concerned, has passed and that the time has come when the laws in this country will be made upon a different basis and with greater regard to the public interest and with less regard of the interests of those who are specially concerned in tariff and railroad legislation. He said that he was fighting for the party and that he felt that the old party was to lead in the future as it had in the past but that he wanted it freed from the bad advice, "freed from corrupt influence and to become the leader of the reforms which shall make of the future a realization of all the labors of the past and of the dreams of those who have struggled and sacrificed for the welfare of the people."

In common with good citizens everywhere, I share the universal disgust which has arisen on seeing the greatest executive departments, those departments which touch the business of the nation most intimately, made a headquarters for the awkward squad of politics, bucket shops, for dealing in political futures upon margins calculated daily from the record of the year and days.

Democrats Lack Leaders.
Almost daily there develops in the discussions in congress some evidence of the fact that the Democratic party is without organization and without leadership. The pitiable exhibition which the members of the minority party in the senate and the house gave consideration of the bill to amend the Interstate Commerce act was a repetition of what happened when the currency legislation and the tariff legislation was before congress in previous sessions. It stands out, but not more so than what happens almost daily, especially in the senate.

The trouble with the Democratic senators is that for the most part they are too indolent to master the details of legislation or too engrossed with matters outside of the legislative halls to remain in attendance when subjects of vital importance to the country are under consideration.

During the consideration of the paragraph of the sundry civil bill making appropriation of $150,000 for the tariff board Senator Bacon offered an amendment providing that not more than two-thirds of the membership of that body should belong to one political party.

He also agreed to proposition. Senator Hale, the chairman of the committee in charge of the bill, had been making points of order against every amendment proposed to his bill except such as were reported from a committee or such as provided legislation which had already been enacted by the senate. It is well known that Senator Hale has no sympathy with the tariff board idea. He does not believe in it. He merely consented to report the provision in obedience to the iron hand of circumstance which was described by Senator Beveridge. Yet the fairness of the proposition that if there is to be a tariff inquiry that the minority party of this country should be represented upon the board so appealed to the senator from Maine that he stated to the senate that although the amendment proposed by Senator Bacon was fairly out of order he would not raise the point of order against it.

Vice-President Sherman then put the question to the senate. It was voted upon. There were two or three ayes and two or three noes, and the vice-president said the noes seemed to have it. Whereupon Senator Bacon demanded the ayes and noes, and three Democratic senators other than himself, were on the floor at the time. These were not sufficient in number to secure the ayes and noes. Had the ayes and noes been ordered there is no doubt but the Bacon proposition would have carried, but Senator Bacon, because his own party associates had deserted the floor, was unable to secure the support of enough members to force the roll call.

From the rear of Senator Bacon's seat and out through the swinging doors of the Democratic cloakroom there came the confusion of voices and a ripple of laughter as some good Democrat gave expression of approval to the story told by some other good Democrat, and in that cloakroom and in other places, instead of upon the floor, the minority party lost the opportunity to be represented upon the tariff board which shall make such inquiry as can be made under the weak law and which shall affect the making of future tariff schedules.

Victory for Progressives.

Progressive Republicans won a decided victory in the conference report upon the railroad rate bill. They did not secure all that they contended for. They did secure more than they had any reasonable hope could be won out of the conference. The victory was the more remarkable when it is considered that these Progressives had lined against them not only the Aldrich influence of the senate but the president of the United States upon the principal matters for which they were contending.

The reactionaries made much out of the fact that the fight of Representative Lencrot to accept the rate bill as it came from the senate had resulted in defeat for the Progressives, but it is that fight and the showing which was made in the vote upon this proposition which was the controlling factor and which finally gained for the public whatever has been gained in the railroad rate bill.

The principal contention of the conference was upon the long and short haul clause of that provision of the bill written by Senator Cummins which gives the Interstate Commerce commission ten months in which to review proposed increases in rates. In presenting the matter to congress, Senators Cummins and La Follette clearly pointed out that there should be no such limitation, that the Interstate Commerce commission should have all the time that it needed without any fixed period being written into the law. President Taft contended that the period of ten months was too long and that this time should be reduced, and he used all the influence he could bring to bear upon the conferees to get them to reduce the time to six months. This was a provision distinctly to the advantage of the railroads and in the interest of those who desire to raise rates and against the interest of the consuming public.

Strange Features of Conference.

The conference presented the spectacle of Senators Aldrich and Elkins, who were delegated by the senate to fight for the enactment of the senate bill, retreating from the provisions of the measure of their own house from the moment that they went into the conference. They never stood and made an honest fight to enact into the law the good provisions which the Progressives of the senate had forced into the bill. Allied with Mr. Aldrich was the president.

When all other matters of controversy had been settled and there remained but this one question, the great question in controversy to be determined, Mr. Mann gave signs of weakening and called upon some of the Progressives in the house to know just what attitude they would take in the event that he reported in the bill with the six months' time which the president wanted inserted. He told them that the president was very insistent upon this point and that he would be guided largely by the advice which he received from them. They told him that they would never accept a bill which did not provide for at least ten months' time within which the Interstate Commerce commission could review proposed raises in rates. They pointed to the fact that the senate bill as a whole was a better bill in the public interest than the House bill with the physical valuation and its stock and bond features eliminated.

The ultimatum of the Progressives was carried by Representative Mann to the White House. It grieved the president and Senator Aldrich, but they recognized that they were up against a stone wall and, although it might offend the railroads, they consented to accept it.

JOHN J. HANNAN.

FORGETS HIS OVER COAT

Frank Stevens of Laurel, Miss., Complainant of Cold Weather
Although one of the warmest mornings of the year, Frank Stevens, as he alighted from the Northwestern limited yesterday morning, shivered like a hottenot at the North and bitterly complained that he had been so thoughtless as to leave home without an over coat.

Mr. Stevens lives at Laurel, Miss., in the banana belt, where the mercury touches the highest mark and then some. No wonder that he found fault with the chilly atmosphere here.

At Laurel, Mr. Stevens is general manager of the Gilchrist-Fordney Lbr. Co., a concern which manufactures forty million feet of lumber a year. He is the guest of his brothers, W. T. and Chas. Stevens, and is also finding time to call on his friends of former days. Providing he can withstand the present cold wave, which this section is now experiencing he will remain in the city for a week or two.

BE A BOOSTER

An exchange wisely says that if you owe your home town any duty perform it.

Too many things go by because one fails to do a duty he really owes and the profit that would otherwise occur to the whole or the community fails. A little effort put forward now and then often brings about results the like of which we are not looking for. And all of us owe some duty no matter what our sphere may be.

Perhaps you think the town will go ahead all right without any of your help and you'll profit by being a leech. Not so. Folks won't be long in finding you out and what you save by being niggardly toward town building will be lost to you in the profits of your business at the end of the year. People don't like a leech in any manner of form and sooner or later they will learn to pass you with very little notice. Wake up! Be a booster even if it does cost you a paltry sum now and then.

REFUSES NEW TRIAL

Judge Halsey of Milwaukee has denied the motion for a new trial in the case of Charles W. Harper, the Mercer hunting guide, who was awarded $300 damages from Martin E. Holcomb, a hunter who mistook him for a deer.

At the same time judgment was ordered for the plaintiff. The defendant was given sixty days in which to perfect an appeal if it was desired to carry the case to the supreme court for review.

Harper asked for $25,000 for injuries received in a shooting accident in Iron county in the fall of 1908. The jury gave him $3,000.

STEEL MAIL CARS

The Northwestern railway company which has for the last two months been running steel passenger coaches on its trains through Rhinelander, has also added steel mail cars to its equipment. The cars are constructed entirely of steel and are a vast improvement over the old wooden coaches. In case of wreck the new cars will not telescope and are also proof against fire.

SIX WEEKS SUMMER NORMAL IN SESSION

School For County Teachers Opens
Last Monday Under Favorable Conditions

other branches. This makes the methods work of the whole school a tangible thing to the student teacher. School opened Monday morning at 9 o'clock, and within forty minutes classification of pupils and program was adjusted and the school marched off to classes. Tuesday's work showed the order, the preparation of lessons, and the mechanics of the school working with the precision of a state normal school.

The enrollment starts off with 73 strong, which is good, considering that both Langlade and Price counties are running summer sessions of their Training schools. The register of pupils from the several counties are as follows: Forest 4, Iron 1, Lincoln 12, Oneida 51, Taylor 1, Shawano
2, Vilas 1, and Michigan state 1.

In these Summer schools the state Board of Regents require that a tution of $5 be charged, which money is turned directly over to the State Treasurer, going into the fund which pays the salaries and other expenses of the summer schools.

The city of Rhinelander has shown its generosity and interest in the cause of education in opening the doors of its schools, libraries, and laboratories for the careful use of the summer school. In return for this courtesy the school extends a most cordial welcome to all interested persons who wish to visit the work in progress, or attend its lectures.

The general exercises will be held each day at 8:15 a. m. All the instructors will take part in these exercises. For the next few days they will be conducted as follows: Wednesday, Prof. Royce; Thursday, Prof. Harrison; Friday, Prof. Hale;
and Tuesday, Miss McCormick. There will be no school on Monday, July 4.

Several special features will be furnished among which are: an illustrated address by Prof. K. L. Hatch, head of the Agricultural Education of the U. W., Friday evening, July 5, on the subject of "Nature Study and School Gardens"; Lectures by two or three others such as Dr. Brown and Dr. Frost of the U. W.; and addresses by County Superintendents Lowell of Oneida, Hamlin of Lincoln,
Cook of Vilas, and Kamm of Forest.
All these attractions will be offered free to all attending, and a hearty welcome is extended by the school.

The school is using the new Manual of Elementary Instruction, and the new Township Library List both recently issued by the State Superintendent. It is the purpose of the Regents and Principal to offer the very latest and best of all the good things to the young people who through their interest and energy avail themselves of the school. Such a session is the equivalent of many of the old short institutes, and bespeaks much for the future prosperity of the schools of this quarter of the state.

leged that Ernest H. Gossel has abandoned said claim and changed his residence therefrom for more than six months last past;
that he left his place in July 1919, and has not returned; it is ordered that his residence be unknown, and that said alleged absence from the said land was not due to his

AT SQUIER'S SANITARIUM

Lac du Flambeau Man Sends Watch
There for Treatment.

In sending his watch to Squier's Jewelry store for repairs, W. J. Egbert, government farmer on the Lac
du Flambeau Indian reservation writes:
Mr. Squier the following rather amusing letter:

Lac du Flambeau, Wis., June 27, '19.
E. G. Squier, Esq.,
Rhinelander, Wis.

Friend Squier:—My watch, seems to enjoy treatment at your Sanitarium, for it has gone wrong, altho' but recently having undergone a thorough purging for internal difficulties, it now has the temerity to suspend animation, probably from heart trouble. At any rate, it ceased to perform its allotted task, and so, I sent it to you by Mrs. Sickels, last Friday.

After you have made the necessary diagnosis and applied the proper remedy, let me know what the fee is,
and how long it must remain quad-before it can with safety be removed.
It ought to be convalescent in a week's time. It ran with regularity before it quit business, but I presume the new spring will make some difference, so, that you had better keep it long enough to insure its running nearly or quite correct.

My garden is almost a failure, owing to the lack of moisture, and half of the seeds sown have never shown up. Potato bugs are plentiful, and help is scarce, so I have to do these little turns myself.

Let me know when the patient is strong enough to come home, till then, I am very respectfully,
W. J. EGBERT,
Government Farmer.

WHAT A SUMMER COLD MAY DO
A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season.
Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system.

J. J. Reardon.

RETURNS FROM THE SOUTH
William Griffin arrived in the city Tuesday from Lyma, Miss., to make an extended visit with his sister, Mrs.
Geo. Burkhardt, and many old friends.
At one time Mr. Griffin was employed as camp cook by lumber concerns operating in this section, but for four years past he has been following that vocation in the South, chiefly in Alabama and Mississippi. He is well pleased with that country as a place of residence and expects to return there in the fall.

Jesse Sequine, another cook who went to the South with Mr. Griffin, is located in Alabama where he holds an excellent position with one of the big lumber firms. Mr. Sequine wishes to be kindly remembered to all his Rhinelander acquaintances.

SAYS "JEFF" WILL WIN

Colonel Howard of Ironwood, Mich.,
one of the most widely known sporting men in the upper peninsula, was in the city Saturday for a few hours while on his way to Reno, Nev., to attend the Jeffries-Johnson bout.
The Colonel, who is a personal friend of Jeffries, says that there is no question but what the big fellow will have an easy victory over the black boy. Incidentally he has placed $1,000 on the ex-champion at odds of 10 to 6.

Colonel Howard is an official starter of the American Trotting Horse Association and his name is common on all of the big race tracks from Oakland to Sheephead. He would be a good man to act as starter at the Oneida County Fair track events next fall.

TO HEAR BELL CASE

The case of the state of Wisconsin
on the complaint of former Judge G.
M. Sheldon vs. Judge H. G. Bell will be tried before Judge A. H.
Reid in circuit court at Wausau this week. The contention of the plaintiff is that H. G. Bell is unlawfully holding the office of municipal judge on account of having been elected to the office of city attorney and that the office of municipal judge should be declared vacant. Both parties in the case are well known in Rhinelander where the outcome will be watched with interest.

WHITE WINS PRIZE

At the Elks' state convention and carnival, held in Little Rock, Ark., each lodge was invited to bring a band to enter at a band contest and compete for a cash prize. The Elks at Jonesboro took Grant White's band of 21 pieces and they took first money and in the evening played the Royal Concert on the balcony of the Hotel Marion the headquarters of the meeting. There were 17 bands in the contest.—Stevens Point Journal.

CURFEW FOR SALOONS
Rhinelander, like thousands of other cities throughout the country, has a curfew ordinance for the children.
It remains for De Pere, however, to come to the front with a curfew for the saloon keepers. It will be in force after July 6. At 10:45 o'clock every night the bell will be sounded as a notice to the saloon men that they have fifteen minutes to clear their places of customers and close the doors. Rather a unique idea.

THINK RHINELANDER AFRAID
Tomahawk was to play Rhinelander
Sunday, but Rhinelander cancelled the game. The excuse was that they thought Tomahawk was too slow.
Merrill defeated Rhinelander 7 to 0
when they were not in half the condition they are now. The opinion here about Rhinelander's excuse is that they were afraid of another 11 to 2 deal as happened to them two years ago.—Tomahawk Leader.

HURT PLAYING CIRCUS
The young son of Mr. and Mrs. C.
Brown, residents of the west side, is nursing a badly injured foot received while playing circus at his home last Thursday. The boy was trying to imitate some of the acrobatic stunts seen with the Yankee Robinson show when his foot came in contact with a sharp pointed hook. The wound inflicted is a painful one and will cause the little fellow much inconvenience for some time.

No outing is complete without a "Vacation Fox." Markham & Parker
have them.

"To every man upon this earth death cometh soon or late."
LIFE INSURANCE
The Twentieth Century is peculiarly a practical age. It is an age of applied science. At no other time have so many problems of a social and economic nature been presented for solution, and among these no greater economic problem deserves more consideration than that of Life Insurance.
Its Only True Application
The industrial efforts of every individual has two legitimate purposes. (1) To secure the immediate necessaries of life for himself and those who depend upon him for support. (2) To create an estate for his own use during the period of old age. Life Insurance should protect him in both of these purposes and no other.
There are only three physical conditions that can destroy the individual's power to comply with the foregoing. Namely, death, total disability and old age. Either one of these three conditions is certain to terminate the productive power of every man. Therefore his Life Insurance should protect him against all three of these conditions. Are you protected? If not
The Modern Samaritans
offer a plan of Life Insurance that absolutely protects the holder of its Benefit Certificates against either.
It insures against the termination of money producing power by an untimely death in the payment of Mortuary Benefit to the dependants of the insured. It insures against a poverty stricken old age by making a handsome return to the holders of its Benefit Certificate when they reach the door of old age at sixty-five years. It insures against the termination of money producing power by total permanent disability, by paying to the holder of its Benefit Certificate almost the full face value thereof at any time subsequent to the date thereof.
Under its plan it eliminates the heavy cost incident to old age mortality, the maintenance of an old age mortality reserve, the speculative or gambling features of Life Insurance, and the necessity of depending upon "new" blood for maintaining solvency.
Its table of premium rates is based on the National Fraternal Congress tables of Mortality, which are acknowledged by Actuaries to be sufficient for every purpose of its contracts.
Redemption Fund
For the benefit of its persistent and "starling" members who keep their benefit certificates in force for the full term a Redemption Fund together with all interest accumulations thereon, shall belong exclusively to those of this class who survive and continue their Benefit Certificates in force to twelve o'clock noon of their respective sixty-fifth birthdays, and shall never be used for any other purpose whatever.
This redemption Fund will insure a handsome return and be paid in cash to the holder of the benefit certificate, or may be used for the purpose of securing a paid up certificate for the balance of life, with the option to surrender same at any time and receive in cash the full amount of such special reserve to the credit thereof.
Home for Aged and Disabled Members
It provides a home for its aged and disabled members guarding against misery and want during the sunset of life. Its contracts are equitable, scientific and absolutely safe and sane. They are reciprocal and have strict regard for the law of compensation, by equalizing and distributing the fortunes and misfortunes of life as far as money can do it. Benefit Certificates are written for $500.00, $1000.00, $2000.00 and $5000.00. Cost of joining very reasonable. No initiation fee. No medical examination fee. Pay three months in advance. Plus $1.00 certificate fee. Have our representative explain our plan.
